THE MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.
CENTER FOR NON-VIOLENT
SOCIAL CHANGE

Coretta Scott King, President

"The Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Center is important at this moment in history because it memorializes a man who marked the advent of a new time and a new meaning, and because we need to keep the meaning alive for our sake and for our children's sake. Truth needs witnesses. Truth needs monuments."

Lerone Bennet, Jr.

The King Center provides serious education, training and research programs which focus upon economic and community development, youth, labor, cultural affairs, theology, philosophy and governmental affairs. The Center also contains the Martin Luther King, Jr. Library and Archives, the largest collection of primary resource materials on the American Civil Rights Movement available in the world. At the heart of the manuscript collection are the papers of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholars from all over the world are now coming to Atlanta, Georgia to make use of this important facility.

It is the mission of the King Center to continue this man's singular work, and to perpetuate his methods and beliefs for a world united in justice, equality, human dignity and peace.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday

On November 3, 1983, President Ronald Reagan designated the 3rd Monday in January as the official legal federal holiday in recognition of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s struggles and accomplishments for peace, justice, and equality for all people. New Jersey passed legislation in 1977 designating January 15 as a legal state holiday. Legislation has been introduced that will allow New Jersey's celebration to conform with the federal law.

WNJR RADIO, NEWARK SYMPHONY HALL and SAVOY RECORDS have joined together to present the First Annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Concert to enlist interest and participation in the National Fundraising Campaign of the King Center, and to celebrate the efforts of the millions of Americans throughout the Nation who worked to have Dr. King's Birthday mandated as a legal federal holiday.

We are especially proud to welcome MRS. CORETTA SCOTT KING to New Jersey and to our Pre-Concert Reception. We are honored that she selected our event for this Memorable Day.
